

HEARTH 2005 Reference Manual Revisions

Gas Manual

- Reorganized and streamlined for clear information delivered efficiently
- Latest technology including new DC voltage electronic valves
- Specific code references for National and International Fuel Gas Codes (1999-2003)
- Comprehensive information on combustion air requirements including code requirements and new calculation methods for volume and openings
- More detailed information on appliance and venting installation
- New section on interpreting code regulations and manufacturers' instructions
- New illustrations
- Coordinated with NFI exam review

Woodburning Manual

- Specific code references for International Residential Code (IRC) and NFPA 211 (2000-2003)
- New maximum size requirements for masonry flues serving woodburning appliances
- More detailed information on appliance and venting installation
- New section on interpreting code regulations and manufacturers' instructions
- New illustrations
- Coordinated with NFI exam review